

One-Day Boot Camp for Job Search Success

Sunday, March 8, 2009 from 9am to 5pm

Online Registration Required

A Winning Mindset Is Far More Important Than A New Resume!

Today's realities call for bold and authentic choices. With the disappearance of life-long employment contracts, our mission increasingly is to rely on significant breakthroughs in our thinking, not be content with incremental change.

A singular trait necessary to achieve breakthroughs is an open and accepting mind and exposure to proven methods for success.

We'll show you how to –

- ✓ Use innovative ways to reach hiring managers
- ✓ Create evidence-based compelling resumes and profiles
- ✓ Rely on up to 10 other documents besides a resume to succeed in job search
- ✓ Communicate with integrity and authenticity, straight from the heart
- ✓ Change your mindset to work from a space of inspiration
- ✓ Improve your effectiveness up to 10X with sound techniques of goal and time management
- ✓ Embrace the web to break past geographic limitations of conventional job search methods
- ✓ Be mindful of your greater purpose every moment of every day

Why come to a boot camp?

Research indicates that experiential learning “sticks” with you, whereas reading a book or watching a video on how to change your habits is not as effective. Just like learning to drive. Or learning how to ride a bicycle. Behavior change benefits from actually trying out new experiences in class.

Why 8 Hours?

The goal of this boot camp is to wake you up, to cause a shift in your thinking, so you'll be open to learning new habits. It is the first test of your commitment to succeed.

What can I expect for outcomes?

Insight on the 8 Job Search Success Levers shown in the figure. New ways to think about a resume, cover letter, bio, networking, goal and time management, using the web for job search, and most importantly, new ways of thinking about who is responsible for your success.

You'll receive a thorough critique of your resume in class to go along with the new you!

What good is developing a new resume if the old you is still holding it? If your confidence, your communications or your thinking still work off the old resume? It is time to set yourself free, to think outside the conventional box.
